 - To ensure that the University of California creates and maintains a community free of sexual violence and sexual harassment for every individual, including graduate students, Graduate Council recommend that the definition of responsible employee include any University employee who is not a confidential resource and who receives information about possible sexual violence and sexual harassment involving any student

Divisional Business

This year, the Graduate Council took up the following issues related to the San Francisco Division:

Grad Slam. Building on the success of the 2015-2016 Three-Minute Thesis competition, the Graduate Division held the Grad Slam competition at UCSF in which graduate students were asked to present their research in less than three minutes. Graduate Council convened immediately prior to the event and members of Graduate Council were invited to attend the event.

UCSF Capital Campaign Planning. Elizabeth Watkins, Dean of the Graduate Division presented to the Graduate Division materials from the UCSF campaign planning. The Graduate Division provided input that Dean Watkins conveyed to the administration. Examples of comments include:

- The theme “Next Generation of Leader” should be reworded to recognize academics.
- The theme “Precision Medicine” does not have a clear meaning to everyone.

Annual Graduate Division Merit Fellowship Nominations. Graduate Council reviewed and rated nominations. Each member reviewed 27 nominations on average. Almost $600,000 in merit fellowship funding will be awarded to students in the 2016-17 academic year. Wendy Winkler, Chief of Staff of the Graduate Division provided a training to the members of Graduate Council.
